After completing the programme, you will have a broad understanding of global politics and key concepts in international relations. Your skills will include the ability to think independently, to conduct documentary research, and to write reasoned academic studies.

Year 1 (Preliminary Year)

This year is not compulsory for students with appropriate qualifications for Year 2 entry*

The first year comprises a special programme of English for Academic Purposes designed by highly experienced staff from the acclaimed Centre of English Language Learning (CELE) at the University of Nottingham. Year 2 (Qualifying Year)

In this first year of specialist study you are introduced to the historical foundations of Western cultures and political systems together with themes and theories central to modern international organisations. Twenty-credit modules are structured around the student-centred approach with extensive reading as you practice the study skills you will need for more independent research later in your degree. Each semester you take twenty credits of options.

Year 3 (Part I)

In this year, you consolidate what you have learnt so far by applying the knowledge you have acquired so far with more in-depth study of various issues covering regions including the West and Asia. Each semester you take twenty credits of options.

Year 4 (Part II)

Besides taught modules and options the focus of your study in this final year is an individual dissertation project. This is on a topic of your own choice and consists of guided research spread over the whole academic year.

In addition to meeting the academic entry requirements, international students whose first language is not English or whose entry qualification was not obtained in the medium of English, are required to provide evidence of their proficiency in English language.

Engaging study, incredible results

You will encounter a wide variety of teaching methods at university, probably more than you will have done at school or college and, as a student on one of our programmes, you will be taught by lecturers who are experts in their field.

Teaching

Teaching is delivered through a combination of lectures and seminars. You will therefore experience a mix of large group learning and more intensive small group work with an in-depth focus on key international relations and history issues.

Tutorials and Support

As a student in the school, you will be supported by personal tutors who arrange individual meetings each semester to review progress, offer guidance on module choices and careers, and provide general pastoral care. Personal tutors are also available across the academic year to assist you with any issues arising on the programme.

How will I be assessed?

We present students with a variety of different challenges and types of assessment, including exams, essays, verbal presentations and projects.

You will be given a copy of our marking criteria which provides guidance on how your work is assessed. Your work will be marked in a timely manner and you will receive feedback on the tasks you are given.

The final degree classification is based on marks gained for the third and subsequent years of study.

Library and computing services

As an International Studies student at UNNC, you will benefit from access to an extensive collection of printed and online library resources. In addition, you will have both on and off-campus access to a very wide range of databases, ejournals and ebooks, relevant both to your subject and any subsidiary modules in other subjects.

Digital Learning

Digital tools and activities have been used to provide each student rich, timely, targeted feedback on their work, increase the authenticity and applicability of student assessment, and document the unique knowledge and skills attained by each student for employment or further study.

Join the 1,000 students who take a language module with the University Language Centre every year as part of their studies.

At the Language Centre we aim to provide you with the language skills and competencies to communicate effectively in everyday life and work settings, skills which are much sought after by potential employers.

All the language modules are taught with a blended learning approach, to help our students to develop digital literacy and essential skills such as team work, independent learning, time management and collaborative work. Students can find online resources on our LMS system (Moodle) and in-class activities where students can interact, discuss and acquire a global awareness that allows them to appreciate diversity and multiculturalism.

What's on offer

Experienced international staff provide language classes from Beginners (stage 1) to Advanced (stage 4 or 5) and offer 10 and 20 credit modules in 6 languages with various entry points depending on previous language learning experience.

- Korean
- French
- German
- Japanese
- Spanish
- Mandarin for International students

We offer a wide range of extra-curricular activities in all languages to promote collaborative work, cultural exchange and enhancement of soft skills. We have our own magazine Cosmo&LC and we organise cultural events where students are able to demonstrate their proficiency.

In 2022 the Language Centre began an association with the Chartered Institute of Linguists, the UK's most distinguished body for Language Professionals. Our programmes at Level 3 and above have been Validated by the CIOL and most of our staff have been admitted at Member status (MCIL).

隶属于宁波诺丁汉大学人文与社会科学学院的小语种语言教学中心致力于帮助学生实现卓越的语言沟通技巧，旨在帮助学生在多国语言环境的工作场所中获得更广阔的就业前景。

我们的小语种语言教学中心拥有享有国际声誉以及具有卓越教学经验的小语种教学团队，团队教师均为来自目的语国家的语言教学专家。目前针对所有的本科、研究生开设了法语、德语、西班牙语、日语、韩语以及汉语（国际生）的课程。

我们的语言教学风格多样，旨在帮助学生发展广受雇主欢迎的多种跨学科技能：团队合作、自主学习以及时间管理等。学生通过在线的学习平台（Moodle）获得丰富的在线资源，在多样化的课堂上进行互动、讨论，从而学会欣赏多元文化、获得国际化视野。

我们的小语种语言教学中心为学生提供了一系列从入门级别到高级的学位课程。同时，学生也可以选修一门小语种课程作为学位课程的一部分。一门20学分的课程通常每周进行5-6个小时的教学，一门10学分课程通常每周进行3个小时的教学，教学内容包括口语、听力、阅读和写作。

此外，我们还在课外组织了一系列旨在提高学生语言技能、团队合作能力以及促进文化交流的课外活动，例如《Cosmo&LC》杂志编写、小语种电影之夜等。

2022年，我们的中高级语言课程正式获得了英国皇家特许语言家学会（CIOL）的认证，且超过半数的教职员已被吸纳成为该学会的会员（MCIL）。
