2024 IEW | Chinese Night Successfully Held

6th Apr at Siyuan Auditorium, the 2024 IEW Chinese Night was successfully held. CI Mandarin learners, their friends and families, as well as UNNC students and staff all enjoyed a fantastic moment.

The gala consisted of 12 programs, including dancing, singing, dubbing, poem, musical instruments and costume show. The Mandarin learners made great efforts to design and practice the performances in the past month. It was a feast for all the audiences and actors to enjoy a diversity culture of the campus. It was also a gift from all the Mandarin teachers and learners for UNNC 20th anniversary.

This event was hosted by Nottingham Confucius Institute China Ningbo Branch and Department of Campus Life, organised by Mandarin Corner.

Mandarin Class

Feedback on Mandarin class was started to collect in the late April. For all Mandarin class takers in this semester, please scan the QR code to let your voice heard. It would be very helpful for us to improve the quality of Mandarin class and provide you with a better service.

Chinese Painting Class

12 Apr saw the successful ending of Chinese painting class in this semester. Over 70 staff and students participated in the class for this semester. Sincere thanks to student volunteers from Mandarin Corner and Chinese Calligraphy and Painting Society who made huge efforts to make the class a smooth operation.

Chinese Bridge Spring Camp Visited UNNC

16 Apr, 19 students from the Chinese Bridge Spring Camp visited the University of Nottingham Ningbo China under the guidance of two teachers from the Confucius Institute in Nottingham. This was the first delegation to China organised by NCI since the lockdown of pandemic was lifted.

The members of the delegation were full of praise for the trip to Ningbo and sincerely wished UNNC a happy 20th anniversary.

This event was strongly supported by the Center for Language Exchange and Cooperation of the Ministry of Education and Ningbo Foreign Affairs Office, and hosted by Nottingham Confucius Institute China Ningbo Branch and Li Dak Sum Incubator.
