Getting to the University

You are suggested to use the free airport pick-up service to the University. Detailed information on how to travel to the campus is as below should you choose to travel on your own.

Plane

From Ningbo Lishe Airport

A taxi from the airport costs around 40 RMB for a 12km journey.

From Hangzhou Xiaoshan Airport

Take the shuttle bus from the airport to Hangzhou Train Station then get the high speed train to Ningbo Train Station.

From Shanghai Hongqiao Airport

Walk to Hongqiao Train Station then get the high speed train to Ningbo Train Station.

From Shanghai Pudong Airport

Take a taxi or the Metro to Hongqiao Train Station, then take the high speed train to Ningbo. A taxi to Hongqiao Train Station will take about one hour and costs around 250 RMB. To get to Hongqiao Train Station via Metro, take Line 2 and transfer at Guanglan Lu Station.

Coach

A taxi from Ningbo Central Coach Station costs around 35 RMB for an 11km journey. Buses 115, 132, and 368 run from the coach station and stop near campus.

Train

The easiest way to get to the University from Ningbo Train Station is by taxi. The fare is around 35 RMB for an 11km journey. Buses 159, 161 and 369 run from the station and stop near campus.

Taxi

Show taxi drivers the following address to reach the University campus:

Things to Do- After Arrival

1 Check in at your accommodation

When you arrive at your accommodation you will need to:

- show your evidence of accommodation fee payment
- collect your student ID card, a checklist, a check-in form and leave your contact information at the front desk.

Please note that student ID card is your key to enter your dorm building, also necessary to access to hot water in your dormitory.

- go through the inventory checklist when you enter your room
- inspect your room, make sure it is in good condition and, if not, immediately report to the front desk
- read the terms, rules and regulations in the form and sign it
- submit the completed checklist and check-in form to the front desk
- read your welcome pack and have a look through the other welcome materials in your room

2 Register with the local police within 24 hours after arriving in China

The Public Security Bureau requires all international students to register with the local police station within 24 hours of arrival. This can be done when you check in at the University accommodation. If you stay off campus before you move into the university accommodation, please ensure to complete the police registration at the hotel you live or at the police station near your residence.

3 Register and attend Welcome Week

You will need the following items for registration:

- Your original unconditional offer letter
- Your original certificates and references, if you applied by email – you will not be able to register without your original diploma and transcript (degree students only)
- Your original passport and a copy of passport identity page and visa page
- Receipt of your tuition fee payment – if you have not paid your tuition fees you will be told how to do this and this should be completed ASAP

Welcome Week is the week prior to the first week of the academic semester. It offers you social, study and support sessions and events to help you get familiar with the campus, meet people, get prepared for study and find out who's there to help. The activities include:

- Information sessions on the services to help you with personal and academic life: Visa & Insurance, Academic Service, International Student Support, UNNC Library and more;
- Faculty welcome sessions
- Events and activities to meet people, build friendships and join clubs and societies

The full Welcome Week programme will be available a few weeks before Welcome Week. Students can find information in the University online application system and will also be notified the programme by email.

4 Attend a health check (for X1 visa holders only)

All students who need to apply for a residence permit should complete a health check. If you have brought an approved original medical report, laboratory results and X-ray film with you, you will be exempt from certain parts of the check-up, but you will still need to go to the designated hospital to apply for an official certificate (at a lower cost). Global Engagement Office will arrange a group health check during the Welcome Week. On the day, please ensure you

- do not eat breakfast – you can drink water if needed
- bring three passport photos and a copy of your passport
- bring 500 RMB cash, your medical report, your laboratory results and your X-ray film, if you completed a health check in your home country.

5 Apply for residence permit (for X1 visa holders only)

Students who hold an X1 study visa must apply for residence permit within 30 days after arrival. Global Engagement Office will organize a group residence permit application for new students in the third and fourth week of September.

Supporting documents that you need to prepare are as below:

- A copy of passport
- A copy of visa page
- A copy and original admission notice
- One photo in white background

It usually takes 20 working days for a residence permit to be processed.

Application fee for the residence permit:

- 400 RMB for less than one year
- 800 RMB for one year to less than three years
- 1000 RMB for three to five years

While your residence permit is being processed, your passport is with the Immigration Office. You will get a receipt, which can be used to travel within Chinese mainland.

Getting around

Taxi

Taxi is a popular and affordable way to get around the city. By showing the driver an address in Chinese and in most cases they'll get you there. Taxis are easy to flag down. You should gesture in an up/down motion with the palm of your hand facing flat to the ground. They will display a green light in the windscreen if they are available for hire, but you should try and avoid taking a taxi between 4pm and 6pm, as this is the shift changeover period.

All taxis are metered and will display the fare, which starts at 11RMB. Fuel supplement is subject to change from time to time.

Metro

Ningbo has three metro lines. Line 1 runs west to east through Tianyi Square in the city centre. Line 2 runs to the Ningbo Train Station and Ningbo Airport.

Bicycle & e-bike sharing

In Ningbo, there are many bicycle and e-bikes that can be rent on the road. You can scan the QR code to use it, and you need to pay the deposit before using shared bikes. Do not forget to lock the bicycle at the end of your ride.

Plane journeys

Ningbo Lishe International Airport (NGB) is about 12km away from the city centre. The airport has domestic services to a number of major cities in the Chinese mainland, as well as flights to Hong Kong, Taiwan and other international destinations.

The airport is a 30 minute taxi journey from the campus, which costs less than 50RMB. The airport is fairly small, with a limited number of shops and a few restaurants. There is an ATM in the domestic departures hall.

Didi Chuxing

Didi Chuxing is a large ride-sharing company. It provides services including taxi hailing and private car hailing, etc. When you can not wait for a taxi or bus, using the Didi app at the peak time or make a reservation will be more convenient.

Long-distance coaches

Coaches in China are reliable and punctual, and you can travel to many destinations around the country for reasonable prices. There are many coach stations in Ningbo, but the most convenient one for our students is Ningbo South Coach Station. There are regular coaches to Hangzhou and Shanghai from this station, as well as to many other places. All tickets are one way, with automatic seat allocation, and there's no need to book in advance unless you're travelling during a peak time, such as Spring Festival and National Day.

Trains

Train travel in China is a great way to see the country and trains tend to be clean and comfortable. High-speed lines from Ningbo make it possible to reach Shanghai in two hours and Hangzhou in one hour. Tickets can be bought up to 30 days in advance online and it is usually possible to buy return journeys. You can check tickets at this website:

<http://english.ctrip.com/trains/>

Local buses

Below is a list of some of the buses that you might need in your first few weeks in Ningbo. All of the stops are within walking distance of the campus. Bus journeys cost 2 RMB, but remember to have the exact fare as no change is given.
