Summer Programme Introduction

Global Engagement Office recognizes the importance of studying abroad to broaden students' academic experience and intellectual horizons as well as benefit students' future career development.

For the year 2025, we have selected around 20 summer school programmes offered by UNNC partner universities around the world. For 2 to 8 weeks during summer, students will have a taste of what it's like to study at some of the best universities around the globe and interact with students coming from different backgrounds. Moreover, the relatively short period and flexible curriculum allow students to arrange schedule that best suits their needs and develop knowledge of a foreign living environment and teaching methods.

Asia Summer Programmes

FASStrack ASIA: The Summer School 2025, National University of Singapore

Programme dates: 1-19 July

A 3-weeks summer programme based in NUS UTown, FASStrack taps into NUS research strengths in the region and offers Asia-themed courses across disciplines to enrich students' knowledge and understanding of various regional topics and issues. Students get to attend classes held in a dynamic and multi-cultural learning environment with both NUS and international students. Some of these courses feature local fieldtrips to facilitate experiential learning outside the classroom. In addition, students have opportunities to explore and learn more about Singapore's culture and heritage through social events. Courses offered include The Rise and Fall of Great Cities, Principles of Visual Communication Design, The Evolution of a Global City State, Introduction to Psychology, Emotions and Social Life, and more.

Application for tuition waived places

Some of UNNC's partner universities accept summer school students under the existing exchange agreement, the nominated UNNC students don't need to pay tuition for attending summer school. However, students should be prepared to cover their living expenses, air tickets, insurance, etc by themselves during summer school.

The following five universities are offering tuition-waived places:

- Radboud University Summer School: 6 places
- Aarhus University Summer School: 12 places
- Technical University of Denmark Summer School: 6 places
- University of Hohenheim Summer School: 4 places
- Kühne Logistics University Summer School: 3 places

Undergraduate degree students in Year 1 whose average mark of the autumn semester of 202425 is 65 or more, or Y2 and Y3 students whose average mark of 202425 is 60 or more are eligible to apply for the tuition waived places. As most summer programmes require academic background, Y2 and Y3 students' applications will be preferred.

If you want to apply for the tuition-waived place for a certain programme, please download the application form from the summer school website (<https://www.nottingham.edu.cn/en/global/summer-programme/overseas-summer-programme.aspx>) and send application documents to International-summer-school@nottingham.edu.cn by the deadline 28 February.

All applicants will be notified of the nomination result by email around the mid of March.

Frequently Asked Questions
